Since most books about binary options appear to be bullshit, I am starting a real world trading journal for traders serious about taking money from the market makers on binary trading platforms.

This is a short journal of notes taken during the trading day of Oct 8, 2015, when trading binary options, focused on US Tech 100 on the Nadex trading Platform.

You can learn tips on how to trade binary options, what to look for while watching price on the charts, and how to pick the correct strike to trade and when to wait for the best entry.

I keep the price of the ebook cheap because I don't need your money to survive, i make money by trading.

best of luck in your trading.
